“Senator Obama wants to spread the wealth around ...”

□□ Sen. John McCain □□

First, please allow me to say this: Several of my readers, friends and foes alike, have accused me of being a BIGOT. They said that the reason that I “hate” B. Hussein Obama is because he’s BLACK. Or “colored” or something like that.

Wrong.

First of all, I don’t hate Mr. Obama. I am colored, too, just like him. Pinoy na Pinoy, in fact. The reason for me in not wanting B. HUSSEIN Obama to become the President of America is NOT because he’s Black. Honest. Or, because he’s a closeted Muslim, you know, as in closeted gay.

Okay, don’t get me wrong now. I don’t have any problems with closeted gays, or cross-dressers, or whatever. Hey, to me, whatever turns you on, it's fine by me (that is, as long as you're not hurting or scaring the kids or bothering anybody, or you're not my next door neighbor, de-valuing the prices of homes in my neighborhood), live and let live.

But really ... I am coming away now from the reason why I don't want Mr. Obama to become the next President of America. Let me get back on track. The reason for me, dear readers, is because he's a LIAR, like George W. Bush! And liars cannot be trusted at all.

Since the beginning of his presidential campaign, he has LIED and changed his positions on issues several times, depending where the winds of public opinions shifted.

I don't like Barack HUSSEIN Obama, is not because he's BLACK, or because his middle name is HUSSEIN, or because his last name, OBAMA, sounds like, well, like OSAMA, America's public enemy number one, but because he's a LIAR!

He sways. He grooves. He dances. He's so smooth, a real dude, sleek and slick, even slicker than the Big Dog, Slick Willy himself. Y'all know who I am talking about, right? Again, please don't get me wrong. I like Bill Clinton. And I like his wife, Ms. Hillary, too. I like both of them VERY much. They have done a lot of good things for this country. But what has B. HUSSEIN Obama done for this country? Pray tell me.

VOTING FOR THE PARTY IS BLIND LOYALTY: I also like, believe or not, Sen. Joe Biden, Mr. Obama's running mate. And of course, Sen. John McCain and his VP, Gov. Sarah Palin. All three – Senator McCain, Senator Biden and Governor Palin – are my kind of Americans. God-fearing and patriotic Americans to the core. They have sons, who are now fighting in Iraq. Yeah, that's right, I am not a Democrat nor a Republican. I am not even an Independent or Green. I am a registered Democrat, but that doesn't mean I vote strictly Democrat. I vote for the person, the candidate himself or herself, NEVER for the party. Voting for the party is blind loyalty....

And as I said, the reason I don't like Mr. Barack HUSSEIN Obama, is not because he's BLACK, or because his middle name is HUSSEIN, or because his last name, OBAMA, sounds like, well, like OSAMA, America's public enemy number one, but because he's a LIAR!

So early in his political career, he epitomizes the typical politician, who promises expensive goodies to voters to win their votes. Like: Education for all! Health care for all! Lower taxes for all! All the freebies and the goodies for all, except the rich. In other words, spread the wealth. Ala Robin Hood: rob the rich and give it to the poor. That's not my concept of America.

In America, you work your butt off. You take care of your family with your hard-earned money. You save part of your hard-earned money for the future of your children and for your retirement. In other words, you pursue the American Dream by working hard. To me, that's America.

But if you're lazy and you'd rather get handouts from the government ... and develop this sense of entitlement because you're a minority in this country, then shame on you. And shame on any political candidate, too, who would perpetuate and ENABLE those kinds of people in eternal handouts and ENTITLEMENTS. I suppose that's also America. But I don't belong to that kind of America. I don't want to belong there.

And that's one of the reasons, my friends, why I am NOT voting for B. HUSSEIN Obama. He wants to enable lazy people and parasites in America. How would he do that? Through taxes. By raising our taxes. By squeezing us, the middle class, with taxes. He said he's going to cut taxes for the middle class. I say he's a damn LIAR!!!

As Gov. Sarah Palin said in a GOP rally in Richmond, Virginia: "America, doggone it, unfortunately we're deep in debt, and Barack Obama would put us even in deeper debt. We've got to reverse this. America, we cannot afford another big spender in the White House."

Mr. Obama epitomizes typical politicians, who promise expensive goodies to voters to win their votes. Like: Education for all! Health care for all! Lower taxes for all! All the freebies and the goodies for all, except the rich. In other words, spread the wealth. Ala Robin Hood: rob the rich and give it to the poor. That's not my concept of America.

MCCAIN'S DROP KICKS OBAMA: In

my younger days in the 60's, I deeply immersed myself in the art of Tae Kwon Do, as taught by the father of American Tae Kwon Do, Mr. Jhoon Rhee. Tae Kwon Do at that time was not taught to children and teenagers, but only to responsible adults who were of "good moral character" because the techniques that were learned then could be used as deadly weapons. The two most lethal techniques that I liked the best and spent most time on in honing to perfection were the side kick and the drop kick. The side kick was easy to learn. It was the drop kick that was the most difficult to learn because it involved a lot of agility, balance and strength ... and perfect timing to turn it into an effective weapon. But perfecting it was all worthwhile.

Just like what the name of the technique implies, you drop on the floor and on your side as your opponent delivers a kick at you ... and then you kick up with a side kick to your opponent's most vulnerable body area, which is the groin area. And, that's it. The deed is done. Hasta la vista, baby!

In the final debate between Sen. McCain and Sen. Obama, there were two successive side kicks that McCain delivered to Obama. The first was when McCain, who was fed up with accusations by Obama as a mirage daw of Mr. Bush, leaped at him and said: "I am not President Bush. If you wanted to run against President Bush, you should have run four years ago."

The second side kick came at Obama in this way: "I have disagreed with leaders of my own party," McCain said, then adding his support to curb global warming, the way the Iraq War was being waged and an HMO patients' bill of rights.

Then ... the DROP kick came swiftly and deadly when McCain said: "Yes, real quick now. Mr. Ayers. I don't care about an old washed-up terrorist. But as Senator Clinton said in her debates with you, we need to know the full extent of that relationship.... We need to know the full extent of Mr. Obama's relationship with ACORN, who is now on the verge of maybe perpetrating one of the greatest frauds in voter history in this country, maybe destroying the fabric of democracy."

Yeah, that was a picture of the perfect DROP KICK to BHO's gonads, which left him stuttering. As Ah-nold, the Terminator would say: "Hasta la vista, baby!" In Japanese, Sayonara ngarud.
