Although I have been vocal against Noynoy, I have not really campaigned for any other candidates. Simply, my sentiments are for the Hda Luisita farmers, especially for the massacre & also for the other victims who lost their lives in the Hda Luisita land conflict always remember that sense of justice is rooted in conscience. the farmers cry for justice will never die whether Noynoy gets elected president or not. these are the cries that will eventually be heard in heaven. I was a former resident of Hda Luisita & the plight of the farmers is embedded in my psyche. folks may talk all they want, but there is nothing compared to events experienced, these are the memories that hurt, the memories that call for justice that transcends politics Sincerely, Maria Elizabeth Joomla SEO powered by JoomSEF
