Yes, Atty. Ben Maynigo, you said it right. Many Filipino-American leaders do not understand that in politics, it is not only enough to deliver the votes but also the campaign donations to the Political Action Committees (PACs) of American politicians. Unfortunately there are no organized PACs in the Philippines. Many of the Filipino politicians just pocket campaign contributions. But this article can begin the real "reinvention" of Philippine politics and the participation of US-based Filipinos in American and Philippine elections.
