just look at his siblings particularly kris... Attitudes are quite similar.. remember that one of kris kids are autistic.. autism is hereditary.. so i'm just thinking if autism runs in their family.. possibly.. My God,, in 70's we have presidents with so much IQs which are the typical trait of a leader.. then come the late 90's, we have a drunkard and a highschool/college dropout.. then here God forbid.. i hope not.. possibly we will be having mentally challenged leader?.. is this a forest gump country?
