

Written by Bobby M. Reyes
Monday, 08 February 2010 11:55 -

For the past three weeks or so leading to yesterday's Super Bowl, the Philippines was often mentioned by columnists and writers in discussing the controversial ad about celebrated college-football quarterback Tim Tebow. A 30-second ad in the Super-Bowl TV coverage costs a million-dollars or more to air.

Here is a description of the said Tim-Tebow ad, as written by columnist David Gibson:

{xtypo_quote} CBS' decision to reverse its previous policy barring advocacy ads to air the ad against abortion had sent Pam Tebow's story ricocheting around the Internet: how, as a Baptist missionary in the Philippines in 1987, she contracted amoebic dysentery while pregnant and was given drugs so powerful they caused a detached placenta and led doctors to forecast a stillborn baby or a child with terrible birth defects. The doctors reportedly counseled her to have an abortion that could save her life, but Pam Tebow refused. The result was Tim Tebow, superstar college football QB and pro-life poster child. -- David Gibson {/xtypo_quote}

To read Mr. Gibson's column in its entirety, please click on this link:

Written by Bobby M. Reyes

Monday, 08 February 2010 11:55 -

Tim Tebow Ad Was a Perfect Pump-Fake

Focus on Family ad was soaked in controversy before Super Bowl. Then it aired, and our writer found it charming.

Why it's a win for pro-life advocates

While the Philippines was not mentioned at all in the Super-Bowl ad, at least the Filipino homeland got free publicity in the weeks leading to the Big Game and, hopefully, in the coming days, as the said ad is dissected further by pundits. # # #

E ditor's Notes: This publication has adamantly opposed abortion as criminal, as it results in the killing of the unborn. Hereunder are links to some of the articles published against the evil of abortion:

Filipino Gears Catholic Movements to Pro-life Activism

Written by Bobby M. Reyes

Monday, 08 February 2010 11:55 -

Remembering the Asian \(and Filipino\) WWII Holocausts and the Tens of Millions of Abortion Victims on Memorial Day

The Great Filipino Holocaust Continues under the Arroyo Dispensation

February Is Not Only for EDSA Revolutions for Also It Is ProLife Month

President Bush Proclaims "All Life Deserves To Be Protected"

President Arroyo's Sadness Over Aborted Fetus Highlights Filipino "Holocaust"

The Philippine Government Pays for the Killing of Fetuses and Abortion Is an Issue for 2010

Written by Bobby M. Reyes
Monday, 08 February 2010 11:55 -

Election

Vatican Blesses the “Worldwide Moratorium on Abortion” Initiative

Advent and Abortion: A Christmas Message for George W. Bush and the American People

The Monumental Modern-day Filipino Holocaust

Mr. Obama and the Democrats Are Avid Supporters of the “Great American Holocaust” # # #

Joomla SEO powered by JoomSEF